Farran Launches New Website and Corporate Re-Branding

Farran today announced the launch of its newly re-designed website and corporate re-branding. The company, now known as Farran, rather than FarranTechnology, has a new corporate identity and website at www.farran.com. Farran is a world leader in innovative millimeter wave solutions used in Test & Measurement, Radar & Imaging, Communications, Research and Aerospace industries internationally.

Martin Fehilly, Farran's Managing Director stated, "Farran has closed out its 2020 fiscal year with results well ahead of financial projections. We are very pleased to debut our new company branding and a new website this month.

Tom Scanlon, Director of Sales & Marketing, commented, "The Farran website now provides more extensive information on the market applications of our solutions, technical data sheets and detailed information about our 10-step custom design process. The comprehensive website both showcases the depth and breadth of Farran's capabilities and allows prospects and customer to tap into an enormous library of technical information."

The new website will be updated on a regular basis with news of product launches, essential client information and corporate milestones. Visitors are encouraged to explore the website www.farran.com
